ANDOVER QUALITY

Andover's fame rests upon many foundations, upon broad scholarship and thorough training, upon loftiness of ideals, upon the calibre of the men graduated from her halls.

Those ideals explain the popularity of LANGROCK with Andover men, both undergraduates and alumni; for, from the outset, LANGROCK has scorned to cater to any but the finest tastes.

LANGROCK clothes are tailored exclusively of the best imported cloths obtainable, with the constant aim of creating the proper attire of a gentleman.

THOUGH dentists and dentifrices rally to the aid of modern teeth . . . though tooth brushes by the million work briskly every morning and every night . . . though Science, year by year, bestows upon us new weapons for the fight against dental ills . . . still, something is missing from the picture!

Where's the help that Nature planned? Where's the thing that kept primitive man's teeth in his head—strong and sound—until he died of old age? In other words, where's the kind of diet that benefits teeth?

Missing, alas, from most modern tables! Check up on your own three meals a day if you doubt it. Note that most of your foods are soft—creamy—highly refined. Then recognize your error—and reform!

Replace some of those soft foods with crisp foods that require chewing—that you will delight to chew! Give to teeth and gums the natural exercise and stimulation that Nature planned. It's the easiest method—the least expensive method—and the only completely efficacious one! Your dentist will tell you that.

There's one particular modern food that's famous for the benefit it brings to teeth. You've heard of Grape-Nuts. It appears on millions of American breakfast tables every morning—a food deliciously crisp—golden-brown—nut-like in flavor. It tempts you to chew thoroughly. And that's why dentists so enthusiastically recommend it.

They recommend it, too, because it's the kind of food that helps build and maintain sound tooth structure. A food rich in varied elements. Phosphorus for teeth and bones. Iron for the blood. Proteins for muscle and body-building. Dextrins, maltose and other carbohydrates for heat and energy. And the essential vitamin-B, a builder of appetite . . . Eaten with milk or cream, Grape-Nuts is an admirably balanced ration. And it is one of the easiest foods in the world to digest because of the special baking process by which it is prepared.

Try it tomorrow! Served everywhere in convenient individual service packages.

IN publishing this memorial edition of the Pot-Pourri, we have tried to present in an attractive form a survey of the year's activity, abbreviated through necessity, but, we hope, in sufficient detail to outline at least the school life of this one hundred and fiftieth year. The book contains old pictures of the school, which will serve both as a reminder and record of the school's age, realization of which is apt to be forgotten in the presence of the recent manifestations of growth.

We render due thanks to all those whose painstaking work and interest have aided the publishing of the book. To the Trustees of Phillips Academy, by whose generous donation the memorial cover was made possible, we submit this product of our efforts with the hope that they will deem it a worthy commemorative edition.

We sincerely hope that every alumnus will, in years to come, be able to turn to this volume and, scanning its pages, let himself drift back to Andover Hill, where in May, 1928, he renewed old friendships, visited familiar places, stripped to his eyes of the effects of the veneer of the years' developments, and was proud, as we of the Senior Class are proud, to be men of Andover.

Junior Year

WHEN, in the fall of 1924, we made our début as undergraduates here, it can be fairly said that the apprehension in our hearts was not unmingled with a certain degree of hope and anticipation. Things were new and strange. The "old men", after the conventional period of being supercilious and disdainful towards us, were less and less formidable. They were a part of this novel existence, and were accepted as such. Then, finally, after the first week of terror, we endured the trials of the "Prep" parade and were free. After this experience it did not take long to get acquainted. The term flowed on swiftly, with ratings occurring often enough to keep us in a state of perpetual fright. We met them with varied success, according to our talent and application.

The football team quickly rounded into shape, and we won our first game with Dean by the score of 23 to 0. In spite of the fact that we had a successful preliminary season, Exeter succeeded in defeating us 10 to 0. This was a bitter pill to swallow, but the soccer team partially avenged this defeat by going through an undefeated season and beating Worcester by a 4 to 0 score.

Upon returning from the Christmas holidays we were no longer considered as "preps", and we enjoyed our new privileges to their fullest extent. At this time the relay team defeated Exeter at the B. A. A. Games. The swimming meet was very close, Exeter just nosing us out with a total of 33 points to our 29. In basketball, too, Exeter won after an exciting game, 28 to 23. The wrestling team had a very successful season, defeating Worcester, in the letter meet, 18 to 8. The hockey team did pretty well, but was disappointed in not being able to play Exeter in the annual game.

In the spring term, the pleasantest term of all on The Hill, we turned our attention to baseball, track, and tennis. The baseball team, after a creditable showing during the season, lost to Exeter 5 to 0. Victories over Exeter in track and tennis made up for that defeat, however, as we won the former by a score of 65 to 60 and the latter by the excellent score of 7 to 2.

The publications were all successfully run, and the Musical Clubs performed notably at Rogers Hall, Bradford, and in the Andover-Exeter concert. The Dramatic Club put on two good shows, while Philo and the prize speaking contests were unusually successful. In all the various branches of school life we were as well represented as could be expected of a Junior Class.

As the year wore on, we became less and less dazed, until we seemed to have a very fair conception of life here and its possibilities. We looked forward to our ensuing years here. Those who did well had an earnest desire to continue, and those less fortunate had an equal determination to be more successful. Above all, we began to have an inkling of what Andover could mean, taken as offered, as the finest of American preparatory schools.

H. T. JONES, JR.

Lower Middle Year

WE returned to Andover in September, and immediately set to work to impress upon the "preps" the fact that the school was managed by us, "the old men." The new men realized this quickly, and we now turned our attention to the fall athletics. This was Mr. Shepard's first year as head coach of football and he started out by beating Dean 3 to 0. The next week the team held the powerful Harvard Freshmen aggregation to a scoreless tie. Then, handicapped by many injuries, Andover lost the next three successive games, but ended its preliminary season by running up sixty-seven points against Vermont Academy. The Exeter game was played November fourteenth on a muddy field, on account of which neither team was able to do much offensively. Captain Sandbergh of Andover and Captain Ellis of Exeter narrowly missed field goals on several occasions. The game ended in a scoreless tie. Our representatives on the team were Captain-elect Kingston, Gould, and Avery. The soccer team went through its second successive undefeated season. The Worcester game ended 0 to 0.

In the winter the hockey defeated Exeter by a score of 2 to 1. Our lone representative was W. T. Adams. The swimming meet and the basketball game with Exeter were cancelled because Exeter was in quarantine with scarlet fever. Both teams had successful seasons. Jeffery was the only member of '28 on the swimming team, and Captain-elect Avery on the basketball team. Sundown was our only delegate on the wrestling team, which enjoyed fair number of victories.

In the spring, when Andover hill is truly a heaven, we let our studies slide a little, but we grew to love the old school more and more. We enjoyed a very good track season, again winning the Harvard Interscholastics, and being defeated only by Yale Freshmen. Exeter bowed to a score of 85 to 41. Avery and Kingston represented our class, the former being high-point scorer in the Exeter meet and for the whole season, for which he received a silver cup. Our baseball team, under Coach Merewether, had a good preliminary season, and was successful in the Exeter game up to the ninth inning, leading by a score of 6 to 4. Then with two outs, a succession of errors filled the bases, and Coombs in true story-book fashion got a triple scoring three men. Andover lost 7 to 6. In tennis we were more successful and beat Exeter 6 to 3. R. Field represented our class in this sport.

Other activities, such as the Musical Clubs, the Debating Society, the Society of Inquiry, the Dramatic Club, and publications flourished with unusual success this year. We, as Lower Middlers, were just beginning to take part in these activities.

Then came the Spring Promenade, final exams, and College Boards. As we left Andover, a little sad after our good-byes, we looked back with satisfaction over a happy year, and turned homeward with a great feeling of superiority—for were we not now upper classmen?

D. A. DUDLEY

Upper Middle Year

HAVING returned from our summer vacation, we found ourselves exercising the unsuspecting and untried "preps" with far greater assurance than we possessed the previous fall. We had abandoned the crude and overbearing tactics that seem always to be typical of the sophomore element in schools and colleges. We were now quite sophisticated and calm Upper Middlers with great respect for ourselves and far more tolerant in spirit. Following the traditional "Prep" Parade, we turned our thoughts toward football.

With average material, Coach Shepard developed a team which played erratic football throughout the preliminary season, winning three and losing three of its six games. The team, however, atoned for many past defeats by defeating our ancient rival Exeter in a most convincing manner by the score of 20 to 3. Our class was represented by Barres, Kingston, Avery, Osborne, and Gould. The soccer team, captained by C. L. Sturtevant, ended its third consecutive undefeated season by winning over Worcester 3 to 2. 1923 was represented by T. O. Greenough, R. B. Greenough, and H. T. Jones.

With the chill blasts from the north came the realization that winter was at hand. The hockey team under the tutelage of Mr. Merewether, handicapped by lack of ice throughout the preliminary season, lost to Exeter by the score of 2 to 1, our lone representative being "Doc" Pierce. The basketball team, after a fair preliminary season, defeated Exeter 31 to 19, which was a record score in Andover-Exeter basketball history. Our class was represented by Avery, Frank, and Harris. Captained by W. M. Swoope, the swimming team, lacking new material, went through an average season, but was forced to bow to Exeter by the score of 35 to 27. Jeffery and Brainard were the members of our class on the team. The wrestling team had a fine season, losing only to the Boston Y. M. C. A. Flarsheim was our sole representative. The relay team, led by Captain Barres, lost a close race to Exeter. Our class was represented by Barres and Newfield.

After enjoying the winter social season, which was made most successful by the Senior Promenade, we began to enjoy the balmy weather of early spring. The track team had a most successful preliminary season in which it won the Harvard Interscholastics by a large score. The season closed with a crushing 89 to 37 defeat of Exeter. 1928 was represented by Avery, Barres, Moore, Kingston, Robinson, Houston, and Tate. The baseball team, under Captain Luce, after an erratic preliminary season, lost to Exeter by the score of 10 to 6. Our class was represented by H. T. Jones and Harris. The tennis team enjoyed a successful preliminary season and won over Exeter 5 to 4; 1928 was represented by Captain-elect Field and Smyth.

The class of 1928 left Andover in June with rather mixed emotions. It had enjoyed its Upper Middle year far more than either of its first two years, but looked forward to its Senior year with great anticipation.

J. R. MILLER

Senior Year

WE returned to school in the fall of 1927 as lordly rulers of the undergraduates, and, assuming the duties and privileges of Seniors, took the first steps on the long road to Commencement. Although at different times during the year our thoughts were naturally claimed by activities for the moment more interesting, in our minds was always the happiness of contemplating the Sesquicentennial celebration in May. Glowing accounts of the planned festivities came to our attention from time to time, and we realized more and more how fortunate we were to belong to a school dating back to Revolutionary days and more fortunate still to be members of the graduating class under those circumstances.

As is customary in the fall term, we directed our attention toward soccer and football, and, not so much in accordance with the usual general practice of our three preceding years, we paid a bit more attention to our scholastic interests, for on them hung our ultimate fate as students. We watched Coach Shepard form a fighting team from not very promising material, and were duly chagrined to witness our second scoreless tie game with Exeter in three years. When we finally took our attention from the major sport, we found that Jim Riley had brought his soccer team through its fourth undefeated season. While not usually over-interested in soccer, we were all ready to pay due honor to such a coach and such a team.

Vacation sped by on too-rapid wings and we found ourselves in the Winter term. The usual Andover winter with deep snow and bleak winds failed to materialize, but we were not disappointed. As far as our athletic contests with Exeter, we were worsted sadly. True, in February our relay team overwhelmed her's at the B. A. A. games in the Boston Arena, but we were forced to bow to Red and Gray superiority in basketball, hockey, and swimming; but only after hard fights in all three cases. The Senior Prom, one of the best ever held on the Hill, served to brighten one weekend—and rather darken the following week. The Dramatic and Musical Clubs gave their usual noteworthy performances and exhibited the results of the tireless efforts of the organizations and their leaders.

We returned from spring vacation reluctantly, for our last term was before us, and on it hung our diplomas. We have all eagerly awaited the celebration on whose threshold we now stand, and it is now that we fully realize what an important part Time plays in the building of a great school. When, next month, we leave this old Hill, trod by Samuel Phillips and his immortal line of successors, we shall leave to uphold the time-honored traditions of our old New England School, and we sincerely hope that we may prove ourselves worthy of our noble endowment—Finis origine pendet.

MUSICAL CLUB OFFICERS

IN the winter of 1873 a Glee Club was organized in the school, but it disappeared the following year. Again, in 1877, another club was formed with G. A. Tyzzer as leader; but, according to the Mirror, this one could not hold its own either, for the next year the P. A. Glee Club and the Phillips Glee Club each claimed to be the representative musical organization of the school. So it was not until the fall of 1878 that there was a permanent organization. S. M. Gordon had the honor of being the leader of this.

In 1887 a Banjo Club was organized with F. K. Hollister, the first leader. In connection with this the Mandolin Club was started in 1892 under the direction of F. W. Howard. These did not become independent until 1893 when M. T. Clark resigned from the leadership and a leader was elected for each club. Finally, in 1897, the idea was conceived of making one organization of the three clubs, and a constitution was adopted.

The customary concert with Rogers Hall in the fall had to be postponed until January; but, nevertheless, everybody enjoyed the entertainment.

During the Spring Term the Club will have its annual combined concert with Exeter, this year at Exeter. Later on a return tea dance will be given for Rogers Hall, also a combined concert with Bradford.

ORCHESTRA

THE Dramatic Club has had a rather erratic career, having been inaugurated at various times by different teachers and then dropped when interest waned. Mr. Phillips, Mr. Stott, and Mr. H. C. Stearns have all had a hand at it at one time or another. The present club was taken over several years ago by Mr. Heely, and under his competent direction has produced some excellent plays.

The play that the club gave last year at Commencement was "Mr. Pim Passes By", by A. A. Milne. This was a light comedy of English life, with a little pathos mixed in with the humor. It portrayed the confusion and trouble brought about by the forgetfulness and absentmindedness of an old man. The play was made noteworthy by the substitution at the last moment of Mrs. Lawrence S. Heely of Plainfield, New Jersey, as Olivia Marden, the leading woman's part. Mrs. Heely carried the performance to new heights.

The original cast:

George Marden	F. M. Pope	Brian Strange	T. H. Raywood
Olivia Marden ( his wife )	L. W. Wallner	Mr. Pim	J. P. Fox
Dinah ( his niece )	F. V. Hoogland	Anne ( a maid )	D. H. Morris
Lady Marden ( his aunt )	F. B. Cooper

This year the usual winter performance of the club was given in George Washington Hall on March 17. The play chosen was "Clarence," written by Booth Tarkington in his inimitable style. It was a comedy centering around adolescent love, the main character being Clarence, an eccentric but likable man of about thirty years. The title rôle was played very creditably by Pitkin; and R. M. Davis, Henning, and Chorlian had the leading female parts.

The cast:

Mr. Wheeler	W. A. Rill	Violet Pinney ( Cora's governess )	B. D. Henning
Mrs. Martin ( his business secretary )	R. L. Gwinn	Clarence	L. B. Pitkin
Mrs. Wheeler ( his second wife )	H. R. M. Chorlian	Hubert Stem	D. H. Morris
Bobby Wheeler ( his son )	J. B. Hawes	Dinwiddie ( a butler )	P. K. Allen
Cora Wheeler ( his daughter )	R. M. Davis	Della ( a maid )	G. S. Hayes

The Club is planning to give another play this year at Commencement, and, although no definite choice has been made as yet, we are sure that it will maintain its usual high standard.

	J. B. HAWES, III

IN the autumn of 1824 Horatio B. Hackett with three of his closest companions organized "The Philomathean Society", a club whose purpose was "mutual improvement" along literary lines. At first it had many of the characteristics of the present-day fraternities, for, in fact, it was founded as the rival of the then potent Social Fraternity. These features, however, were later abandoned, and the organization was opened to the school at large. In the earlier years of this institution all forms of literary endeavor received equal emphasis. As it progressed, however, more and more attention was paid to debating, and finally the society came to devote itself exclusively to this medium of expression. Since its establishment it has waxed and waned according to the energy and ability of its proponents. At some times it has had as many as a hundred and thirty members, while at others the number has dwindled to less than thirty.

This year Philo has greatly increased in importance and interest, and seems to be well on the way toward regaining its former prestige. There have been greater attendance and more general enthusiasm at the meetings than at any other time in the last decade. For this, great credit and praise is due to the officers, Ogden, Newton, and Remick, who have been largely responsible for its rejuvenation.

For the second year the club was divided into two groups under the direction of Newton and Norcross, this system having proved successful last year. The debates continued to be decided in the English way, that is, by a vote of the audience. Since Mr. Ohmstead had had much experience in debating at Bowdoin, he served as faculty adviser and rendered invaluable criticism after each discussion. As usual a wide variety of topics were discussed, such as cancelation of foreign debts, co-education, Arctic exploration, and Mussolini.

The following have been elected officers for next year: J. Q. Newton, Jr., president; G. S. Hayes, secretary; R. M. Davis, treasurer.

THE Society of Inquiry was founded on October 7, 1833, as a missionary fraternity, and in 1839 the name was changed to the one it now has. During the early days of the Society there was a limited membership, and it was the chief factor in campus life. Various propositions were discussed then, as today, but of a somewhat different type.

The war, however, caused a dearth in the activities of the Society, but gradually raised the whole social structure and gave the students new points, which required new terms and interpretations of the value and meaning of religion and life.

Today the students are discriminating between religion and theology. In its approach to religion and life the Society endeavors to seek after goodness, truth, and beauty in every quarter. By a cross section of ideas and criticisms the Society hopes to clarify and to make as concrete as possible that body of experience which goes into the making of highest civilization. Now it is the social, cultural, and religious society of Phillips Academy, and it aims to stimulate proper ideas and conduct.

The exchange of speakers was arranged with the following preparatory schools: Exeter, Groton, St. Mark's, and St. Paul's. Harvard, Yale, Amherst, Williams, and Dartmouth have sent delegations to address the students who attend the meetings.

The splendid co-operation on the part of the student body resulted in contributions amounting to over $1400 to meet the budget for this year.

A new executive board of eight was chosen from the student body for the purpose of discussing its business. Under the guiding hand of Mr. Overdorf, its faculty adviser, the Society of Inquiry completed, perhaps, its most successful year.

THE Open Door Committee takes upon its shoulders one of the most important and necessary of all tasks connected with the regular athletic routine. As a committee of hospitality, it arranges for the meeting, transportation, and entertainment of visiting teams. It consists of five seniors; in the spring term, two upper middlers are appointed, who compose the nucleus for the committee of the following year.

This work, especially during the winter term, is particularly exacting, and the men who served deserve especial credit. Mr. Roth, who has been the faculty adviser since 1923, has given this a great deal of attention and aid.

PHILLIPIAN BOARD

THE first Phillipian was issued fifty years ago, in the fall of 1878, and as Phillips Academy celebrates its sesquicentennial year it views with pride the period throughout which this paper has formed a definite and integral part of Andover life.

On October 19th of that year the first issue appeared, under a board of ten men, with E. S. Beach as editor-in-chief. Until 1887 the paper was published once every two weeks, and during this period it gained a firm hold on the interest of the student body, and of the Phillips Academy Alumni, who had long felt the need of such an organ.

In 1881 the Phillipian adopted the method of giving control to a board of six associate editors and an editor-in-chief. Three of this board were elected from the Senior class by the entire school, and three were appointed from the remaining members of the student body by the outgoing board. This method prevailed until fifteen or twenty years ago, when the present system was adopted.

In 1887 the paper was first issued bi-weekly, and for the past forty years it has appeared in much the same form it displays today.

BLUE BOOK BOARD

THE Blue Book is the student handbook of various facts and reference material presented to the entire school at the opening of the year.

The Blue Book, since its inception in 1921, has, with the exception of the school map added in 1925, undergone through the years but little change. It was not until the 1926-27 edition that a constructive revision was undertaken by the current Editor-in-Chief, B. D. Gilbert '26.

Many pages of obviously unnecessary and platitudinous material were eliminated. The result was a vastly improved Blue Book.

SESQUICENTENNIAL RECORD BOARD

The Sesquicentennial Record

IT was the purpose of the editors of this novel publication to compile an anthology of stories, articles, poems, letters, paintings, drawings, and engravings which would serve as an account of the achievement of Andover men and as a record of the event of the One Hundred and Fiftieth anniversary. More than one hundred eminent graduates and friends of the school responded to the requests of the editors.

With a few exceptions the writings and illustrations are about the school, whether they be reminiscences, histories, or eulogies. Many are the tributes to Dr. Stearns, the Trustees, and the old teachers and Principals of Phillips Academy. The distinguished artist, Raymond M. Crosby, has sketched an invaluable portrait of James C. Sawyer, the Treasurer of the school. William H. Walker, who drew the political cartoons in Life for more than a decade, has designed the cover and has also drawn an excellent cartoon of three of Andover's Faculty members. Such men as Walter Prichard Eaton, Edgar Rice Burroughs, Raymond Weeks,

Edward S. Martin, the Rev. Frederic Palmer, President Emeritus Charles F. Thwing, and Professor James Hardy Ropes have recorded their memories of their school days at Phillips—memories that old Andover men will warmly cherish.

Ring Lardner, America's foremost humorist and the father of two Andover undergraduates, has contributed a whimsical burlesque of Andover one hundred years ago. Such statesmen and educators as Vice-President Dawes, William Howard Taft, James J. Davis, Herbert Hoover, Governor Fuller, President Angell, and President Hibben have all written their appreciations and greetings for the old school in its century and a half of existence. One of the foremost American poets, John Gould Fletcher, of the class of 1904, has written a poem, Andover Elms, which is considered the greatest gem in the whole book. Dr. Moorehead, curator of the Andover Museum of American Archaeology, has described Andover in the Indian times. Commander Donald B. MacMillan has sent his compliments to Andover by radio from Northern Labrador. Dr. Alfred E. Stearns and Dr. Claude M. Fuess have both written editorials.

Many other celebrities have contributed material for the Record. Among them are Ambassadors Phillips and Morgan, Senators Gillette, Walsh, and Bingham, Congressman Andrews, William Lyon Phelps, Samuel Merwin, William Beebe, Montague J. Rendall, Louis Untermeyer, Richard Evelyn Byrd, Major-General Adolphus W. Greely, Edwin E. Slosson, Julian S. Mason, "Big Bill" Edwards, Archibald Roosevelt, Sir Wilfred T. Grenfell, Sir Herbert Ames, and Robert Hall-owell. For the most part these men have not written about Andover, but have composed articles and stories in their special fields.

Altogether this magazine will be a symposium of Andover's marvelous development and a souvenir worthy of the great celebration it chronicles.

So great was the toll of graduation that when Coach Shepard called out the football candidates last fall, only four veterans reported. Building around these four men, Captain Gould, Avery, Barres, and Osborne, Coach Shepard, assisted by Coaches Benton, Jacob, Dake, Murray, and Olmstead, turned out a team which, although it was not of championship calibre, won games from all opponents in its class except Exeter, with whom it tied.

In the opening game of the season Andover lost an exciting contest to the Dartmouth Freshmen by a score of 12 to 0. Aarne Frigard, an old Andover player, scored a touchdown after an eighty-yard run thru the whole Andover team.

In the second game of the season Andover was defeated by the largest score amassed against an Andover team in several years when the Harvard Freshmen won 25 to 0.

The next Saturday, the team traveled to New Haven to meet the strong Yale Freshmen. Here the Blue first found itself and they held one of the best freshmen teams in the country to a 9 to 0 score.

The power which the Andover team had shown in the Yale Freshmen game asserted itself still further in the game with Lawrence High. and Captain Gould led his men to a 13 to 0 victory over the high school champions of New England.

The following week the game which had been scheduled with Dean Academy was cancelled owing to an epidemic (of infantile paralysis) at Andover.

Andover won its last preliminary game when they defeated the New Hampshire State Freshmen by a score of 14 to 0 in a slow, uninteresting game.

On Saturday, November twelfth, Andover journeyed to Exeter for the annual struggle with the Red and Gray. On a wet and slippery field the teams battled to the second scoreless tie in three years, and the fourth in the history of football rivalry between the two schools. The ball moved from one end of the field to the other, neither team having the punch to put it over the goal line. The game was featured by the defensive play of Captain Gould. He made more than half the tackles of the game, and was always in the thick of the fray encouraging his men.

Letters were awarded to the following:—Captain Gould. Manager Adriance. Captain-elect Osborne. Lindenberg, Houston, Coyles, Westfall, Stebbins, Kendall. Hoffman, Barres, Wheeler, Newton. Harris, Churchill, Healey. Avery, Miller and Ingelfinger.

Coach Merewether began his second season as baseball coach with a very discouraging prospect. There were only four letter men who had returned to school, Captain Luce, Frigard, Alexander, and Bassett. With these men as a nucleus, he turned out a team which lost to Exeter 11 to 5, because of a disastrous first inning in which Exeter scored ten runs before the Blue was able to get started.

Andover started out the season in mediocre fashion, winning from Boston University 7 to 2, but losing to New Hampshire Seconds 2 to 1. It won the next two games, defeating Huntington 9 to 5 and Wentworth 7 to 6.

Next the team journeyed to New Haven only to take from Yale Freshmen the worst beating of the season, by the score of 16 to 1. Next Andover lost to Dean 10 to 0.

Andover then took a spurt and won its next three games, defeating Dartmouth '30, 7 to 1. Harvard Seconds 11 to 10; and Cushing 12 to 1.

Andover lost its next game to Worcester 4 to 3 in an extra inning game, only to come back and defeat two of the hardest teams on the schedule, Harvard '30, 7 to 2 and St. John's 3 to 2. In the latter game Bassett knocked a home run in the seventh inning, driving in one run ahead of him and winning the game. Andover then lost its last preliminary game to St. Anselm's 6 to 3.

On Saturday, June 11, the Andover student body journeyed to Exeter to see its team lose one of the most heartbreaking games in the history of the rivalry between the schools. In their half of the first inning the Exeter batters got to Murphy for ten runs, before Slader was rushed to his relief. After that hectic first inning Andover outplayed its rivals decisively, but the game was irreparably lost. In the ninth inning, with the score 11 to 2 against it, the team made a valiant rally, scoring three runs, but in vain.

The following men received letters:—Captain Luce, Manager Bennett, Captain-elect Harding, Jones, Murphy, Hoffman, Slader, Harris, Frigard, Bassett, and Alexander.

Track

Last year the Andover track team experienced one of the best seasons it has ever known. It was particularly strong in the field events, where we had many veterans.

Andover started off the season in the proper way by defeating the M. I. T. Freshmen by a score of 91 1-2 to 36 1-2. The visitors were able to take first place in only three events, namely—the 100, the 200, and the mile.

The following week the team made up for its mid-winter defeat at the tracks of the Harvard Freshmen by turning them back by a 71 to 55 score. Harvard took first place in all the running events except the hurdles, but the Blue won enough points in the field events to take the meet.

The next Saturday the team journeyed to New Haven to meet one of the strongest Yale Freshmen teams in the history of the college. It is sufficient to say that the score was 96 1-2 to 29 2-3 and that Kimball and Captain Weicker were our only first place winners.

The next week, however, the Blue showed its strength and won the Harvard Interscholastics by the largest score ever made by one team, when they garnered 72 1-2 points. T. P. Avery was high scorer for the meet, taking first in the pole vault, second in the high jump, and third in the discus.

The next meet the Blue won from Worcester with little or no trouble. Worcester was only one point behind in the running events, but in the field events could gather only 3 1-2 points and were beaten by a 90 1-2 to 35 1-2 score. In this meet Robertson threw the javelin 170 feet.

Andover also avenged her winter defeat by the Dartmouth Freshmen, and defeated them 74 to 52. As usual the field events turned the meet in our favor.

On June 4, Exeter came to Andover to be defeated by the largest score in the history of track relationship between the two schools, 89 to 37. The feature of the meet was Avery's leap of 6 ft. 1 in. in the high jump, which broke the school record.

The following received their letters for placing in the Exeter meet:—Captain Weicker, Manager Merrill, Captain-elect Avery, Wheeler, Barres, Wolf, Hirsh, Nunn, Aitken, McSheehy, Watt, Tate, Vaill, T. N. Richardson, Moore, Goodwillie, G. P. Richardson, Frost, Kingston, Stewart, Kimball, Robertson, and Houston.

With a nucleus of only three returning letter men, from the sixty-eight men who turned out, Coach Olmstead was able to secure some rather good material. Although the weather was on the whole poor, only two of the games had to be cancelled. During the Christmas vacation the men who lived around Boston had a chance to practice at the Brae-Burn Country Club with Coach Olmstead.

The first game, with the Town Team, was cancelled. On January 18, the team met the Harvard Seconds at Cambridge. On account of the greater weight and speed of their opponents the Blue was defeated by a score of 2 to 1. The team did well, however, in holding so strong an adversary to such a close score. Cushman starred for Andover, scoring the only goal. January 21, on bad ice the team defeated St. John's by a score of 2 to 1 in a poor exhibition of hockey; Jenkins scored both goals for Andover. The next game, which was scheduled to be played with Melrose, had to be cancelled on account of the weather. On Saturday, January 28, the Blue met the strong New Preparatory School team. It was well-fought on both sides, but the game ended with a score of 3 to 2 in favor of New Prep. There was close opposition all the way through, and it proved to be one of the best games of the season. Pierce and Smyth starred for Andover by scoring a goal apiece.

The next game was played with the Boston College Freshmen. This team was by far the most powerful which Andover encountered during the whole season, and it was a very interesting game. Although we were not outclassed, their team was powerful enough to run up a score of 5 to 1. On February 4th the team met the Belmont Hill School. This team had a rather poor reputation, and our team was expected to secure a rather easy victory. However, by some unfortunate breaks and by good playing on our opponent's part Andover was held to a 1 to 1 tie. On February 8 Andover met the Harvard Freshmen in the Boston Arena. In spite of the fact that this was their first year of working together the Harvard yearlings displayed some very fine hockey. They represented some of the best preparatory schools in the country and by excellent team-work ran up a score of 3 to 1.

On Saturday, February 11, the Andover sextet played Exeter in the Arena. The fact that the game was an overtime, neither team scoring until the third period, coupled with its being an Andover-Exeter contest is enough to record the event. Cushman and Neill for Andover, and Captain Crosby for Exeter were outstanding.

The following men received their letters:—Captain Carroll, Manager Hyde, Cushman, Neill, Smyth, McDougall, Howe, Pierce Rugg, Sherman, Adams, and Clarke.

Swimming

When the call for candidates was made last fall, Coach Duke had only four letter men on which to found his team. One of these, R. G. Anderson, the school record holder in the backstroke, was ineligible during the first part of the season. This left Captain Westfall, Jeffery, and Brainard as the only available members of last year's team. Several new men, however, made good and by the opening of the season we had a fairly strong team.

The season started off very inauspiciously when we lost the first meet of the season to the Yale Freshmen by the overwhelming score of 14 to 48. This defeat was quickly avenged by a 34 to 28 victory over the Dartmouth Freshmen.

The team lost its next meet to the Brookline High School, who have one of the best teams in greater Boston.

The visitors managed to win a 35 to 27 victory by taking first in the relay by six inches.

The following meet resulted in an easy victory for the Blue. The Andover swimmers took every first place in winning from Deerfield 49 to 13.

The following week Andover journeyed to Worcester and lost to one of the best school teams in New England. It is sufficient to say that Worcester was the only team to defeat Exeter. Anderson, swimming in his first meet of the season, broke the pool record in the backstroke, but Captain Westfall was defeated in the 100-yard dash for the first time in two years as his team was defeated 39 to 23.

Andover ended her preliminary season with a 46 to 16 victory over Huntington. The Blue allowed the visitors only one first place.

The team had improved so much during the season that they met Exeter on fairly even terms, although Exeter had one of the strongest teams that she had had in years. Exeter won the relay and never was headed. Andover put up a good fight but her inability to take first places proved her downfall. The meet ended with the score 41 to 21 for our opponents.

The following men received their letters for participating in the meet:—Captain Westfall, Manager Kane, Pickett, King, Rogers, Byington, Kimball, Brainard, Jeffery, Bench, Cardozo, Fry, and Anderson. Westfall was re-elected Captain for 1929.

Soccer

When the call for candidates for the soccer team was issued last fall, only four veterans reported. However, it did not take Coach Riley and Captain Greenough long to combine the old and the new material into one of the best teams ever assembled on Andover Hill. The 1927 team was scored on only once while scoring twenty-five points, and they defeated Worcester by a score of five to nothing, and went through the fourth consecutive season in which an Andover soccer team has been undefeated.

The first game of the season against Dean Academy the Blue booters won handily by a score of five to nothing. The Greenough brothers showed in this game that they would undoubtedly be the stars for the ensuing season.

In the next game, against Tabor, the Andover players again shut out their visitors, this time by a score of 2 to 0.

Bridgewater Normal was the next opponent; it was defeated 3 to 0.

Harvard Freshmen, however, proved hard opponents, and they managed to cage one goal. Due to the superb defensive work of the backs, Andover won the game 4 to 1.

Dartmouth Freshmen were the next victims, and the Riley-coached team whipped its opponents 6 to 0. Clark starred in this game, getting four of the six goals.

On November fifth Andover journeyed to Worcester and decisively defeated her major opponents in soccer 5 to 0. J. S. Pugh, with three goals to his credit, was the star of the game. The Greenoughs, Kane, Bannon, Kiddé, and H. T. Jones also starred.

The following were awarded letters:—Captain T. O. Greenough, Manager Wadsworth. Captain-elect Bannon. R. B. Greenough, H. T. Jones, J. S. Pugh, J. A. Clarke, Fawcett, A. F. Pugh, Jeffery, H. B. Joy, Kane, Bateman, Enthoven, Kiddé, and Ripley.

Wrestling

In spite of the fact that the only returning letter men were Captain McGauley and Flarsheim, Mr. Carlson developed a very strong team from the number of candidates. A better season could scarcely have been desired; every meet, with one exception, was a complete victory.

On Saturday, January 21, the team opened the season with the Yale Freshmen. It proved a very good match, and the Blue emerged victorious with a score of 16 to 10. On January 28, the team met the Brown Freshmen at Providence. Because of the comparative results with Yale Freshmen, our team looked forward to a victory, which they obtained decisively, with a score of 26 to 0.

The next game, on the following week, was with the Springfield Freshmen. Once again the strong Andover men downed their opponents, 18 to 8. Barton did well by throwing his man in the most interesting and spectacular bout of the day. The next week the team shut-out the M. I. T. Freshmen by a score of 24 to 0. Elsas gave the best exhibition of the day by throwing his man, who was much heavier and stronger.

On February 22, the team secured its fifth successive victory in defeating the Harvard Freshmen by a score of 11 to 9. Three of Harvard's six men were; Captain Yamaguchi, Frazier, and Robinson, all of whom were on the Andover team last year. In the next meet, the Blue again defeated their opponents, the Tufts Freshmen, by a score of 14 to 6.

The following week, at the hands of the Harvard Second, the team suffered its first defeat. Confronted by a stronger and heavier team, the Blue gave way to a score of 15 1-2 to 6 1-2.

This meet ended a very successful season, Andover having been defeated only once.

The following men received letters:—Captain McGauley, Manager T. O. Greenough, Bigwood, Kellogg, Flarsheim, Durston, and Ingersoll.

Basketball

At the beginning of the basketball season this year prospects looked rather dark, as the team was without a coach and had only two returning letter men, Captain Harris and Frank. Mr. Tower kindly helped out, however, until after Christmas vacation, when Mr. Temple was secured as a permanent coach. Mr. Temple deserves a lot of credit for rounding an unfamiliar and rather green crowd of men into such an aggressive and hard-fighting team.

The first two games did not augur a very successful season. On January 14 the team was defeated at Cambridge by the Harvard Freshmen, 30 to 18, and on January 18 the Tufts Freshmen emerged victorious 30 to 23. In the next game, nevertheless, the team showed great improvement and won over Huntington High School 38 to 22.

From this time on there was a slump, and Dean won 21 to 9. St. John's was next victorious 28 to 26. On February 8 the team was defeated by Lowell High School 22 to 18. On February 11, however, Andover inflicted a crushing defeat to Boston University 45 to 16, followed by another victory over Lawrence 31 to 27. Then came another slump, Andover losing to Wentworth 20 to 18 and to Yale Freshmen 43 to 19. The next game, which was with Worcester, was, with the exception of the Exeter game, by far the most interesting and exciting, Andover winning by the narrow margin of 48 to 46. The next week Exeter came down with a team that had had almost as discouraging a season as Andover. However, the odds were slightly in its favor. But the game itself was one of the most exciting ever played by the two rivals. At the end of the half Exeter led 15 to 14. She was able to keep this lead, though Andover's final spurt brought the score to 32 to 28 when the game ended in Exeter's favor.

The outstanding players were Captain Harris and Frank. The latter was high scorer, until an accident disabled him for a short while. The men to receive their letters were: Captain Harris, Manager Smyth, Capt-elect Dorman, Frank, Mettler, Drick, Rickard, Bicknell, Smith, Ederheimer, and Fenn.

Tennis

In the fall of 1926 when the call for candidates for the club teams was issued, an exceptionally large squad reported for tryouts. At the end of the season prospects for a successful team in the spring looked bright, for much excellent material was discovered among the clubs with which to support the four returning letter men. The most outstanding were Captain Sturtevant, Thomas, Robertson, and Field. Baldwin, a new man, proved to be a great asset to the team, losing only one match during the entire season.

Although weather conditions kept the courts from being in shape until the middle of April, the Blue team had no difficulties with its first two meets, Malden High and Lowell High. The scores were 9 to 0 and 6 to 4 respectively. Then the Harvard Seconds upset all our hopes for an undefeated season by winning a hard-fought match, 5 to 4. The following Saturday Baldwin met his only defeat when Andover beat the Brown Freshmen 6 to 3. Although, when the team met the Harvard Freshmen, Thomas unexpectedly won against Malcolm T. Hill of Harvard, who was ranked first in the National Junior doubles, Harvard was too strong and won 6 to 3. The team then journeyed to New Haven to meet defeat at the hands of the Yale Freshmen 7 to 2. Two weeks later, with an easy victory of 8 to 1 over the M. I. T. Freshmen to its credit, the team went down before the Dartmouth Freshmen 5 to 4.

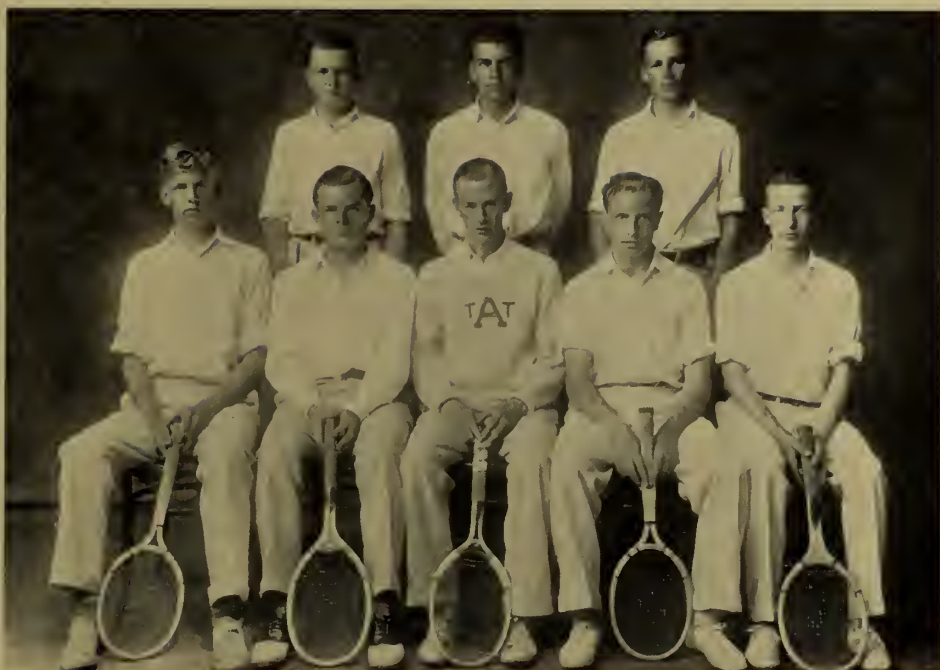

On May 30, Andover placed fourth in the Harvard Interscholastics at Cambridge. Captain Sturtevant played well, but was put out in the third round by Shields, the winner. Thomas, also playing very well, got into the semi-finals, where he was beaten by Henry Johnson who was ceded one. The Monday before the Exeter meet the North Andover Country Club came over and played a tie, match 3 to 3.

On June 3 Exeter arrived for the annual game with a strong delegation. It had won the Harvard Interscholastics and was generally the favorite. Andover, however, captured the first four singles matches. Captain Sturtevant surprised everybody when he beat Ingram who had been picked an easy winner. In the doubles the Blue gained the necessary one match for a victory, which made the score 5 to 4 in Andover's favor.

Mr. Kelly deserves a lot of credit for rounding the team out so well after a late start and a difficult season.

The men who received their letters were: Captain Sturtevant, Manager Lamont, Capt-elect Field, Robertson, Baldwin, Henry, Huxley, and Smyth.

FENCING TEAM

In 1924 fencing was instituted in school as a club sport. The following year a group was organized under the name of Andover Fencers' Club, which had one or two outside matches. Due to the ever increasing popularity of the sport, in 1926 the team was granted full minor sport privileges.

At the start of the season this year the outlook was exceptionally bright, for all three members of last year's team had returned to school. Coaches Barss and Peck were handicapped, however, by the fact that Captain Beckwith was able to fence only in the meets, since he was obliged to go out for boxing.

On February 11, English High School opened the season by overcoming the Blue in a close meet, 5 to 4. Then followed two more defeats at the hands of Boston Commerce High School and the Dennison House of Boston. In the latter meet Captain Beckwith's absence was largely the cause of the loss, for J. Murray distinguished himself by winning all three of his matches. The team gained its first victory on March 3, when it overwhelmed the M. I. T. Freshmen by the score of 7 to 2. For this reason the Blue entered the final contest with more confidence, but the Harvard foilsmen managed to come out on top with the score 5 to 4.

Captain Beckwith, Manager Brett, Capt-elect J. Murray, W. Murray, and Durell were awarded letters.

DURING the past year much has been accomplished in the way of experiments and tests on the short waves at the Academy Radio Club Station, ISW. During the Fall term a great number of short distance phone tests were made, that is, up to about three hundred miles. Later in the fall and during most of the winter, experiments were confined almost entirely to long-distance transmission on twenty meters. The phone transmitter at the Club on this wavelength was one of the first United States Amateur stations to be heard in South Africa. This remarkable experiment was made in February, when the conditions seem best for high frequency transmission on phone. Stations all over the United States even to California and Arizona, reported the Club's signals as the best amateur phone ever heard, and from Europe came the same reports. Considerable work was done with the MacMillan Expedition in Labrador and voice was successfully transmitted from the Club to them. On February 17, a round-the-world message was started from the club, and on the 3rd of March it completed its journey and, having been relayed through only five stations, i. e., South Africa, India, Australia, "Culver Radio Club", and the "M. I. T. Radio Club". It is hoped that short wave experiments will be carried on with the Byrd South Pole Expedition next year with as much success as with the expeditions in the north.

Our society artist, after experiencing much difficulty, produced this portrait of His Highness the Count Cardelli, Andover's epitome of fashion. Our fastidious readers will notice M. Cardelli's stunning streamline britches. No doubt they will be adopted on the campus in the near future.

EXTRACTS FROM SAMUEL PEPYS' DIARY WHILE AT ANDOVER

September 15th. Up very early this morning when I heard the clanging of a bell (I had been duly warned that this sound betided the time for morning prayers) and to chapel. The bell had ceased ringing on my entering and I found the parson to stand casting menacing looks in my direction. He was a tall man with a nose like an eagle and a face as red the setting sun. On his left I did see a fattish person whose nose shone like Southwark Light and who by and by stood up and examined some letters, blubbering a few words in the meantime. And so with new friends to my Lord Oxby, the class overseer, who assigned me to my professors, and that being done, to my first classes. Nor needs must I not say that my masters are a good company and right worthy of hearty friendship. Dr. Oaksworth is a jolly stout man and doth instil in me much love for the Latin poets. Also I have a Mr. Thimbury who lectures to us on mathematics. He is a good-hearted soul, but, Lord! how hath a man interest to know of the things that he doth propound? Our Attic professor is David Bayley, (a great scholar who loves his Homer and his Plato, alas, too much for this worldie institution) and for rhetoric and the letters I have one Professor W. Howe, whose bald pate and distinguished looks cut him a figure the like ne'er seen in the Mall. So to my lady Marston's for dinner and thence afield for sports. My leg increased to heckle me after an hour's tussle and I to the physician, who, being a queer man, was gone to rest and would not see me. However, I being in a poor state, lingered on and by and by he did rise up and attend me, but meanwhile his son did shew me his daughter, and a good comely girl she was enough. After practicing I desired to go, but he waylaid me to desire my favour about going on a trip of his to the West, which I pretended to be much interested in, but my mind is to be acquainted with his daughter more. So to my rooms, and my room companion, Allen Peck, and I up and to my supper and later to a reception which I do not remember distinctly. They say there was much worthy discourse, but I, being near the refreshments, was much for to eat and drink.

September 30th. To chapel in much hurry, my head swimming and only a raincoat over my night shirt. It being a good day and the sun shining brightly, the vesture I had affected caused much bewilderment among my mates. After the service Dr. Simpkins very kindly asked me to step up and see him. This was indeed a great honor actually to meet and talk with the austere figure whom I had seen and heard so often and hither going I thought how jealous my friends must be as I passed them. But, my Lord! to see how changed was he in demeanor. In suspicious manner he asked me why I wore my coat around my neck on a day suche as this. Before I had tyme to answer his query, he was for making a Babel of the place. I would never succeed in life, quoth he, and on to tell how my parents shoulde never have sent me here. So did he go on, and when he did leave off speaking, I thence to a good suit of clothes. I must to the watchmaker tomorrow to buy a larum watch, for it behooves me to be up betimes and dress for chapel. So to Riley's for a good hot roast. At my rooms all the afternoon to study first my Juvenal against my examination tomorrow.

October 1st. Awake at four o'clock to seek more intelligence concerning my Latin, which I have much of late neglected. But, thinking to take a few minutes more of good sleepe so that I woulde not the more tired be, I turned me over, only, alas, to awake just in time to rise for prayers. My Latin professor laying at home very ill of the goute, I fell to dawdling and presently old Bob Clerkenwell coming 'round told me of a certain Mrs. Windsor, the prettiest wench he ever set eyes on. My cousin Roger Pepys being come to Andover and well roomed at the old Mansion House, I was of the mind that Bob might shew us this girl and together with some other young woman we might spende the even in Boston town. After that agreed and by and by, it being dark and Professor Slingsby having seen that we were in the building, I down the rope ladder and away to Windsor's, where all was in readiness for the journey, Bob having marketed a pint of sack, a keg of good cyder, and plenty of caudle (and in this I did bless him). And there I came on Mrs. Windsor in a most lovely form and the other girl and it was quite dark. I did kiss her lips when I hearde Bob coming for his girl. So to the coaches and by stage to Boston. And mighty mirth we had. When we had passed the wall-gates, we went about marking a good inn. Pretty Nelly Griggs would as lief go to Batten's Tavern and so there did we go. There we were met by sixteen other Andover men with many lovely women who received us mighty kindly and so dining on claret and wine. And after a variety of meats and draughts the company divided, some to talk and some to cards till one. Then we fell to dancing and other roaring sports; and which, methought, was the most extraordinary thing, Bob and some others kissed all the young ladies and then across the Common with much singing and carousing to the coaches. Then did we come near a tragic end. Mr. Michael Morrison, a teacher in the sciences who prideth himself in being a sleuth hound, was spied skulking down on us from Foxham's pasture near the State House. Away we bustled and to horse and off, just escaping the vulture. Much revelry on going home, but we parted all friends at four after a great deal of wine. So home and silently to bed.

October 2nd. Have had fine dreams all night of lovely Betty. To prayers and two classes, my head akeing after last night's debauchery. But feeling sick to continue further, I to the Dispensary and to bed. I hath need of a rest anyway and to discourse with the young nurses (whose pretty forms are good to look on) is in itself good sport. However, there is one maid there who is very beautiful, Mrs. Betty Windsor, a young girl who had been expelled from three finishing schools and now lived on Main Street. She was very popular because her father owned a stable of coaches and fast horses.

January 24th. Having vowed to myself to drink no sweet drink this month (finding it to unmake me for study and discourse), and this daying against my will breaking the vow, my soul is much perplexed and I would that God forgive me. So this afternoon we did sport by sliding on skatees. So to the acquisition of learning and very late having poured ourselves a good cup of ale, my roommate and I did drink to the healthe of the Principall. So to bed.

February 9th. This morning about two or three o'clock, some making much noise of it, and rising to the window, being moonshine, I did find it to be Toby Harper and some friends, who were far under and finding the door to be bolted by old Slingsby, were at a loss what to do. So I desired them to take my ladder, but they understanding not at last went off over against their union house. But, good God! It was nigh wondering how from their large orgy they were not ferreted out by M. Morrison. So to bed again. This day I see a sight most wondrous to behold. The poor soul who reads the newes in morning prayers was to be seen walking down School Street at a giddy pace. He was bent forward and often looked at the clock which he had in his hand. Viewing the harebrained speed at which his hands and feet were traveling, I was amazed that any human being could go with so much alacrity. So to dinned with Stuart Miller and S. Craven.

April 12th. I being invited to meet Mr. Slingsby, the recorder, this morning, went over very happy to his rooms. So by appointment to meet by Lord Ainsclifte and to see "Cleopatra" well played at the Essex to my extraordinary content. Then to Marston's for supper, a cold, good supper and wondrous merry. Here was Mrs. Windsor also, and Ladies Southstone and Griggs. After supper to dancing and singing, and so continued till almost three in the morning, and then, with extraordinary pleasure, broke up. Hearing that our Slingsby was abroad, I by the tunnel to Fairdown Hall, where we did sport with much roaring and revelry. So to my union house for a little sleep.

May 1st. Awoke at four o'clock to find the damned bed over me instead of under. What fun is there in these sports? Baseball with Exeter and a jolly time we had, for we were well the victors. So to celebrate and at Brinker's there sat most of the night eating and drinking too much with J. Haverford and others, very merry. So late to the Feminine Seminary, where we did entertain the women, all ugly, with rollicking song and dance.

June 14-30. Slept and lay long, it being my last day at the good academy, So to the exercises where by chance I did receive a sheep's skin and leaving my loved companions, by coach to Boston and aboard ship to London, having spent a most profitable year and learning much both of the sciences and the classics and having formed many jolly friendships I was indeed glad for my going thence.

MORE OR LESS AFTER THE LUCKY STRIKE ADS.

"I was sorry that I had taken Bill's advice about those dry Martinis."

FIELD MOUSE (Briggs in disguise):—"Yes, Red, Yvonne said that last night she dreamt she was dancing with you."

HILL MOUSE (Farquar masquerading):—"You thrill me all to pieces."
